

Those of us who are trauma survivors have known our bodies as places of pain and humiliation.

Healing means taking the slow journey of discovering our bodies have been transformed into a safe place.

My body.

My true home.

My homecoming.

Pat Deegan

